Trinity Western is a Christian university, subject to its overall mission and purpose. Admission is open to any qualified person regardless of race, colour, nationality, or creed. The University seeks to maintain a campus atmosphere which it believes to be consistent with its profession of Christian Faith, one that is conducive to growth and development.

Trinity Western is primarily a residential university, providing many opportunities for growth outside the classroom. The University believes this growth needs to be guided by the mutual respect and concern of individual community members for one another.

As a Christian community, Trinity Western is committed to an integration of biblical Christianity with the liberal arts and sciences, an integration relevant to one’s personal life, to classroom disciplines, to co-curricular activities, and to societal experience in general. Therefore, the purposes of Trinity Western as stated below are designed to encompass the total life of those persons who have committed themselves to this unique institution, and to promote scholarly study which explores the liberal arts in an historic Christian perspective.

The University is committed to:

- Provide students with a broad beginning in liberal arts education, introducing them to the major organized fields of human knowledge, and thereby developing a foundation for further study.
- Train students in the skillful use of the tools of language and thought: the development of other skills including those of social relationships - the qualities of poise, tolerance and co-operativeness.
- Assist students in achieving direction and decision in choice of a vocation or profession, and in preparation for participation in their communities as well-informed Christian citizens.
- Provide for students a wholesome Christian character, strengthening faith in God and in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.
- Promote confidence in the Bible as the standard for faith and practice: encourage students in their formulation of a world and life-view that is related to, and integrated with, natural and biblical revelation.
- Encourage students to be actively involved in a local church of their choice.

Students, whether on or off campus, are responsible to:

- Refrain from practices which are biblically condemned. These include: drunkenness; swearing, or use of profane language; all forms of dishonest practices including: cheating and stealing; abortion; involvement in the occult; and sexual sins including :premarital sex; adultery; and homosexual behaviour.
- Uphold behavioural standards which exist as positive applications of biblical principles and for the betterment of the whole community. These require a member of the Trinity Western community to abstain from the use or possession of: alcoholic beverages, gambling, tobacco in any form, marijuana, and drugs for non-medical purposes, social dancing, and to maintain discreet, inoffensive behaviour in relationships with the opposite sex.
- Exercise careful judgment in the use of time, energy and material resources, the choice of entertainment including television, movies, and live productions.
- Engage in the honest pursuit of knowledge including: regular attendance at classes, chapel services and university events.
- Respect the property of others and to behave in a manner which reflects a concern for others’ safety and well-being.

Community standards designed to promote such an atmosphere have been kept to a minimum in the belief that growth to maturity is best fostered as individuals themselves come to see the patterns that lead to meaningful growth. The University does, however, believe that achievement of the ideals mentioned require adherence to certain minimal expectations in lifestyle by all students - expectations that have come to be accepted as desirable standards of conduct by most Christian communities. While it is recognized that some may not have personal convictions wholly in accord with these responsibilities and standards, the purpose and ideals underlying them necessitate students’ willingness to modify their own personal preferences and standards of conduct while under the jurisdiction of the University, with the full understanding that this is in the best interests of this academic community they have chosen to join. Students who cannot with integrity support these standards should seek a living-learning situation more acceptable to them.

In applying for admission and subsequently enrolling, I agree to accept the responsibilities of membership in the community of Trinity Western, which includes adherence to the specific standards of conduct stated above. I hereby make application for admission to Trinity Western University and enclose my $135.00 application fee. I understand that this fee is not refundable but will be credited to my account if I am accepted to and actually attend Trinity Western. I am aware that all single students under the age of 21 are required to live on campus or in an approved homestay unless living with parents. If admitted I agree to abide by these Community Standards and the rules and regulations of the University.
